

5th Annual Kirch Conference

Planning and Living the Transition Years:

Balancing Health, Relationships, Recreation, and Independence
for Youth and Young Adults with Developmental Disabilities

March 24, 2010
Hyatt Regency Rochester

Timothy Shriver, Ph.D.

Keynote Speaker

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

Special Olympics International

Sponsored by the Golisano Foundation

Timothy P. Shriver, Chairman of the Special Olympics for 14 years, serves 3.1 million

Special Olympics athletes and their families in 175 countries. Shriver has helped transform Special Olympics into a movement that focuses on respect, acceptance, and inclusion for individuals with intellectual disabilities in all corners of the globe.

He launched the organization's most ambitious growth agenda leading to the recruitment of over 2 million new athletes around the world. He has created new Special Olympics initiatives in athlete leadership, cross-cultural research, health, education, and family support, and has worked to garner more legislative attention and government support for issues of concern to the Special Olympics community, testifying before Congress on numerous occasions.

The Kirch Conference is presented annually to honor Andrew J. Kirch. Its mission is to bring information about developmental disabilities to individuals with disabilities, their families, and the professionals who work with them. This year's conference focuses on wellness and developing healthy lifestyles for transition age individuals with developmental disabilities. We are particularly honored that the Golisano Foundation is supporting the Timothy Shriver, Ph.D. keynote that will focus on health and wellness for athletes with developmental disabilities.

Conference Agenda

8:00 to 9:00 Registration – Visit with Vendors – Continental Breakfast

9:00 to 9:15 Welcome

9:15 to 10:30 Workshop Session A (Choose One)

A-1 Transition Health Care – A Team Approach, Tiffany Pulcino, MD, Culver Medical Group

Effective health transitions require participation and coordination between multiple systems; pediatric and adult primary care, specialists, hospital teams, educational and community support teams, and the family. Explore strategies for optimizing the roles of various participants and instituting effective coordination in order to make a healthy transition.

A-2 Putting Health and Independence into the IEP, Alissa Mayer, Transition Specialist, MidWest TASC

Individualized Education Plans and Transition Plans can be opportunities for student to identify important health and independence goals. Review statewide IEP format and how health/independence can be included to positively impact a student's education and outcomes in life.

A-3 Managing Parent Stress during the Transition Years, Lori Jeanne Peloquin, Ph.D.

Parenting during the adolescent and young adult years involves multiple stressors for all parents, and particularly for parents of children with disabilities. This session will discuss effective parenting during the transition years and ways for families to cope with the stressors of this life phase.

A-4 PANEL: Sports & Fitness: Promoting Health & Social Skills, Lorna Patanella, PNP, SCDD; Laurie Kennedy, Special Olympics of NY

Physical activity is an important way to maintain health, engage in social relationships, and have fun. This panel will discuss ways for youth and young adults of all levels of physical ability to engage in a range of physical activities.
